East Greenbush
Can't find the time to ride the entire 1,300+ miles of the epic Northeast BDR? You're not alone and that's exactly why the BDR team has mapped out this outstanding loop route right in the heart of the NEBDR that you can ride over a weekend.

Technically, the route starts at the beginning of Section 3 in Copake Falls, NY and runs up through the infamous October Mountain and eventually returns on a mix of scenic paved and dirt roads. But because it's a loop, you can jump on it at a point that's most convenient for you!

Experience the Berkshires at their best through four Massachusetts State Forests while riding on gravel roads that steadily build up to technical off-pavement stretches with rocks, water and steep terrain. After reaching Windsor, MA, the route transitions into some of the best paved roads as it runs down through Massachusetts and Connecticut back to Copake Falls, NY.

Quintessential New England countryside abounds on this loop through charming villages with ample stops for food and fuel as well as local attractions.
